"Hi, everybody. I am Chris from Images Tips and Tricks. I've been working with Photoshop for about a decade. The biggest benefit of Photoshop is the ability to create the perfect picture with just a few mouse clicks. I am going to show you a simple method of drawing boxes and edges that I use all the time. To draw a simple box, click, drag, and release on a new layer." "Hi there. This is Lyndsay Loo from Lyndsay Loo Studio. We do a lot of logo, graphic, and web design work in Photoshop. If you'd like to learn how to draw a perfect circle, rectangle, or oval in Photoshop, watch this video." "Hi everyone. I'm Jason Wiard and I will be using Photoshop to create a transparent watermark with a logo." ## Choosing a Platform The two most popular Photoshop platforms are Mac and Windows, but others such as Linux, are available. Despite the fact that Photoshop is available on a host of different operating systems, there are drawbacks for different platforms, and some features simply don't work in other platforms.

PSD is an Adobe Photoshop file extension format, or Adobe Photoshop file format extension, file type or binary format used by the image editing software program Photoshop for the storage of the Photoshop file format itself. Photoshop PSD files were first introduced in version 1.0. The PSD file format was later adopted by Adobe Illustrator, Adobe InDesign and Adobe Fireworks. Adobe Photoshop PSD (formerly known as PhotoshopDocument) files are basically series of commands and arrangements of parameters that define layer information and image attributes for a specific image in the Photoshop file format. These files are used to display the image's data in different ways when it is used. The PSD file format is very simple and is an interchange format. This makes it easy to edit the PSD file and also to read and write the PSD format. The PSD file formats are used to create various types of files such as vector graphics, print graphics, web graphics and digital art. PSD files can be used to create a variety of images, from simple images to complex renderings and presentations. Combining PSD files with Adobe Acrobat can result in a variety of professionally designed documents for a number of purposes. With the combination of these two programs, almost any file format can be created and converted into any other format that the user requires. Do you need help with designing business cards? Q: How to get the "id" of an object in a JSON String returned from an HTTP Request I'm trying to get the "id" attribute of a JSON returned from an HTTP Request. I have this snippet of code: `func test(completion: @escaping (_ result: Any?) -> ()) { let api = "" let request = URLRequest(url: URL(string: api!)) let session = URLSession(configuration: URLSessionConfiguration.default) let task = session.dataTask(with: request, completionHandler: {(data, response, error) in if(error!= nil){ print("Error") completion(nil) } do { let json:Any = try JSONSerialization.jsonObject(with: data!, options: []) let result: Any? if let d:Dictionary = json as? Dictionary{ for k in d.keys{ let val = d[k] as! String let f = val.stripAccents(encoding:.utf8) let id = f.substring(to:f.characters.index(after:f.startIndex, in:.utf8)) } } completion(result) } catch { print`

Q: How to get the same filename as the URL that submitted the form I am using these lines: `form.open(PUBLISH, page='About') def publish(): if request.method == 'POST': # Get the requested filename from the URL filename = request.FILES['file'] myfile = open(filename, "w") myfile.write("hello, world") myfile.close() return redirect('/') return render_to_response('publish.html', {'form': form}, context_instance=RequestContext(request))` When the user submit this form I want to save the file on their server. So, my question is: How to get the same filename as the URL that submitted the form. When the user press the submit button, he don't get a URL, so how he can submit this filename? I also tried to use this line: `filename = request.FILES['file'] + " thefilename.jpg"` But, I got the error: `"andpath/thefilename.jpg", error=OSError: No such file or directory` A: My bad. Just I'm using this `filename = request.FILES['file'].filename` instead of `filename = request.FILES['file'] + " thefilename.jpg"` my secret santa really had my name in mind when they gave me this gift. it's perfect. it's a japanese tea pot it's made of something rust resistant, it holds three small cups and it's hand made. my santa was from the states and they also gave me a tea kit that is unique and exciting to use. the cup is about the size of a half gallon of paint. it's great! i love the way it turns out when i put it to use. i really appreciate my santa's gift and generosity. i hope my secret santa felt
