How to make pictures look better The graphic or image software you are using now, can't show the whole picture. The only way to make sure that you see the entire picture on the screen is to make it bigger. It is not so simple, though. You can do this by enlarging the image, or by zooming it in. Zooming In on a Picture Zooming in will make the image bigger, but not necessarily bigger than the screen. To see the entire image on the screen you need to zoom in and move it around a little, so that you see all the image parts in different positions of the screen, before you zoom in again. When you move the image around the screen, you need to go to the positions you want in the image. You can do this using: Finder (Windows), or Applications (macOS) Searching for the image (Windows), or using the image itself (macOS) You can drag the image to the position you want in the image. When you let go of the mouse button you need to place the pointer in the center of the screen. You can see the image zoom in at this point. All of the image positions are visible and the image will remain enlarged. Moving the image around the screen, is easier when you are using a two-handed control (mouse or trackpad) with two fingers. You can move the image around the screen: Using one finger By moving the entire mouse or trackpad around. Moving the pointer around the screen. Moving your hand (one or two fingers) over the screen Using Zoomify Using the zoom buttons (usually two keys on a mouse or trackpad) You can get better control over zooming if you use a mouse or trackpad with zoom buttons. The Zooming buttons are usually located near the edge of the mouse or trackpad on the side. On a mouse or trackpad they are often 4 or 5 buttons. On a laptop touchpad they are usually located on the right and left. The Zoom buttons are usually labeled as ZOOM IN, ZOOM OUT or ZOOM THE IMAGE. You can use the buttons to zoom in or zoom out. The buttons ZOOM IN and ZOOM OUT will zoom in until you click again, and will zoom out from the last position where you a681f4349c
