I am interested in some branches created via `refname@{3,5,7}` syntax I would like to see the full details of all commits on those branches Here is how I am doing it at the moment. iterating over all the refnames (need to check there is at least one branch for each set of refnames). for i in $(git rev-list @{{3,5,7}}) do git log $i...$i^..$i done A: Add to your $GIT_DIR/refs/heads directory an index.txt file which is a list of the branch names you're interested in: # [0] There is at least one branch for each of the three sets git cat-file -p refs/heads/0 > index.txt # [0,1] there are two branches for [3] git cat-file -p refs/heads/0^ refs/heads/1 # [0,1,2] there are three branches for [7] git cat-file -p refs/heads/0^ refs/heads/1^ refs/heads/2 Then the git log @{{3,5,7}} command will list the full commits for the three branches: $ git log @{{3,5,7}} commit a94c25adc28e36938a88e890ab9a8f5cfcae0f8 Author: Date: Sat Dec 14 21:46:48 2013 -0500 commit 5 commit ab8b6a0dae696a286640dec5a95cc89e5e6b1c Author: Date: Sun Jan 04 16:35:09 2014 -0500 commit 7 ... commit 66788f4a1a
