What's New in the Solar Winds Screensaver?

Screensaver, ScreenSaver, X ScreenSaver, Animated ScreenSaver The Screensaver project is a collection of several screensavers for X Window system. Some of them are inspired by other great screensavers. They are all programmed in C++, and the general aim is to be easily configured and installable. The name of this project comes from the expression "To screen saver!" which is very often used when somebody is bored. Most of these screensavers contain a slideshow of pictures, which can be changed using the mouse. A screensaver is the replacement of the old xlock program. Some of them can display only static pictures, others are inspired by the works of other great screensavers. This list is growing.
