Another important aspect is that you can capture and store all incoming, outgoing and relayed messages and archive them to a local directory so you will not lose any important data. What's more, the application comes with an integrated Sophos Anti-Virus solution that catches all spyware and viruses in a single scan and removes them without affecting your PC. The main window is quite intuitive and displays all the information you need including active connections, system health and traffic charts. You can manage multiple user connections and considering all these different devices that you use to collaborate with each other, you can keep everything in sync. Here we are referring to calendars, appointments, meetings, tasks, projects, as well as sending and receiving encrypted e-mails outside the office. Thus, when users are not at their desks, regardless of their mobile device they use, they get the most up-to-date and accurate information whenever they need it. However, the feature that makes the application to stand out is that it allows you to see public folders, shared contacts and calendars on a mobile device, a feature that few mail servers support. For instance, working in a big organization becomes harder to track each one's holidays and vacations, but using Kerio Connect you can preview from your mobile device a public calendar with all this information. Considering all of the above, Kerio Connect proves to be an effective messaging and collaboration server that enables you to track and secure
