Comparing the Lag Techniq Kart 1 to the Formula rFactor Racing 2009, I notice that they appear to. Welcome to the Headland's Blog. This blog is about some of the issues that can impact the quality and effectiveness of a boardwalk program. Tuesday, June 30, 2014 How are we doing? A friend who is a founding member and program leader of the Headlands Boardwalk program shared with me recently a paper he wrote, which is a summary of program operations in February 2014. It's written by invitation only so he asked me to share it with those who may want to see it, regardless of their interest in the Headlands Boardwalk program or whether or not they are members of the Headlands administration, the Board or the Foundation. The premise of the paper is that the Headlands Boardwalk program is failing, and therefore, you should join the Board if you are willing to fix the Headlands Boardwalk program. It's another reason why the Headlands Boardwalk program should be refined. It is a summary of an inventory that was taken during February 2014 to identify program weaknesses and ensure that resources are being allocated appropriately. The inventory includes staff salaries and benefits, payroll, purchases and expenditures, equipment and facilities, buildings and grounds and capital projects. The inventory revealed that the Boardwalk program is not succeeding because we don't have the appropriate people with the appropriate skills, specialized knowledge and experience. Also we are not appropriately allocating our resources, and we are spending more than the average while having a smaller staff than the average. Through the summary and examples, the author demonstrates the need for the Headlands Foundation to provide significant support for the Boardwalk program including: a salary increase, giving more authority to the program leader, providing training for program staff, having a larger staff, investing in marketing and program awareness and providing access to training for Board and Foundation members. We really appreciate the author's initiative in bringing the information about program weaknesses to the public so that the Foundation can make program decisions in order to ensure the Boardwalk program succeeds. Does the summary match your experiences? If yes, let us know. If not, do you have any suggestions for Boardwalk program changes? How can we make improvements to the Headlands Boardwalk program? Send
