Beethen IP Blocker program is designed to help you to block IP addresses from a list that is pre-set or entered manually. BeeThink IP Blocker is an extremely useful tool to protect your system against unauthorized access attempts from external networks. With the help of the program you may block remote computers from accessing your system or simply deny access to parts of it. The interface of the tool is based on a small frame that you can move to any spot on the screen with the help of the mouse cursor. Although it looks unusual, the window is simple to work with. With the simple click of a button, you can instantly set BeeThink IP Blocker's protection status. The utility also creates an icon in the system tray area, from where you can configure settings. It is possible to import a list of IPs from the hard drive; BeeThink IP Blocker supports a wide range of formats, including P2P, DAT, TXT, LST and ZIP. Alternatively, you can manually add a single IP address or an address range. For each IP list you can specify the default mode (allow or block). Furthermore, you can set exception rules, export IPs to the LST format and edit existing properties. From the Options panel you can make BeeThink IP Blocker automatically run at system startup, stay on top of other windows and start with recording the network traffic. Moreover, you can set the sessions count, modify the default directory for recorded files, as well as install a blocker service, among others. The program includes a help file, has a good response time and requires a low-to-moderate quantity of system memory and CPU, so it shouldn't put a strain on the computer's performance. No error dialogs have been shown in our tests and the app did not hang or crash. Thanks to its rich configuration settings, BeeThink IP Blocker should primarily be handled by advanced users.
