There are many traditions that have existed for hundreds, even thousands of years. As with any other culture there are numerous reasons for many of the traditions and many of them were established to keep people safe. However, several of the existing traditions can potentially lead to serious injury or even death. A few examples of some ways that the traditions can be dangerous are: Dressing in Traditional Garments Long hair Leather shoe Holding a stick or any sharp objects An example of an older tradition that still exists in certain regions is the carrying of a club. A popular version of the club is a stick with a wicked spike pointing upwards from the top of the stick. This can damage a victim's head if it is struck. Why is the tradition bad? The problem is that there is no justification for carrying an object that can really do harm. There are quite a few martial arts out there that teach proper defensive moves. With the right striking technique and adequate training you can be sure that you will be able to defend yourself. If you have a bad tradition and do not want to get hurt, it is time to change and banish the bad tradition. Experts agree that habits often change slowly over time. If you learn to walk in the right way, the old way of walking is likely to be difficult to change. The same applies to many other habits. When you encounter bad habits in your life, your best bet is to replace them with new behavior. In most cases, it is possible to do this. Ban the Stick If you have the chance to ban the stick, do it. There is no need for this type of weapon. Most people who carry the stick they believe that it is not the stick that does the damage, but the person who carries the stick. How can you convert this tradition to positive? One is that you can carry a stick that has been made for you. Many people still use the approach that wielding a metal stick is effective and can hurt someone. This is not true. If a person is going to use a stick, they should use a stick that has been banned. The second reason to ban the stick is that it is not good for anyone. You do not need a dangerous weapon to defend yourself. The best way to change your bad habits is to stop them from happening. This means that if you carry a stick or other

Can't wait to use this, my hard disk is dying by the day and I can't spend more than 10 euros on storage, this was $10 at best. ~~~ stephencanon This is $10 or less for 100Mb or more, and $10 more for 500Mb or more. ----- c3d I like this idea, but when I first hit the page, the first thing I was fascinated by was the price of 1 TB of storage for $20.
