It is thought Mo, 33, was detained after entering the United States without immigration papers by foot and was handed over to US authorities. According to sources Mo is being held at the Stewart Detention Center in New York and is having his identity verified. It is thought he will be detained for 14 days in the city's Otisville prison. A source told the Daily Mail: "Mo was taken into US Customs and Border Protection custody at JFK airport on Saturday evening when he was trying to enter the US on a tourist visa without a valid passport. "He was not given a chance to show his passport before he was arrested. "He was then taken to the Otisville federal prison, where he has been held since Sunday. "He had a status check on Sunday which was negative, so he is now being held in Otisville for the next 14 days." His agent told the Daily Mail: "He is in the same facility as Kacyla Youngman. "The Immigration and Customs are now working on his case and Mo would like to see his family. "She was deported on Thursday and she was taken from the same facility. Mo is in a different facility." Daniella Farinacci, immigration lawyer with HARC, added: "The most important thing is his situation is being dealt with as quickly as possible
