May 3, 2013 - I bought a PLC (D0-06DR Direct Logic) from a site like ebay. It was the real deal. When I received it it was password protected and... I couldn't open it without knowing how to open it. I went to ebay and asked them to contact the seller. The seller replied that the PLC was in their security service and it could not be returned without permission from the security service. He said he would send me another PLC and refund the money. I thought he was joking as he couldn't sell my PLC anymore and sent another one. I refused and asked for a refund. Answer: "We can't refund. We got your money back."
