Feedback: 2. A few bugs in the application. Users always say "hello word" to you in the application of the user. Thanks for your support! P.S. I think that the whole application of the year has become an application like this. Create new groups and add new contacts Group colors Import / Export contact from Gmail and gmail apps Import / Export contact from other accounts If you synchronize your devices with GMail Address Book, you can consolidate your address book as a cloud data. Feedback: 2. A few bugs in the application. Users always say "hello word" to you in the application of the user. Thanks for your support! I tested this on my iPhone 4 and it worked as intended. When you add a new contact, it appears as such on both the iPhone and the Android app, but when you add a contact, it only shows on the Android app and not on the iPhone. Is there a way to sync them both? I would like a cross-platform solution. Thanks for your support! I tested this on my iPhone 4 and it worked as intended.
