Roblox is an online game platform and game creation system developed by Roblox Corporation that allows users to program games and play games created by other users. Created by David Baszucki and Erik Cassel in 2004 and released in 2006, the platform hosts user-created games of multiple genres coded in the programming language Lua. For most of Roblox's history, it was relatively small, both as a platform and a company. Roblox began to grow rapidly in the second half of the 2010s, and this growth has been accelerated by the COVID-19 pandemic. Roblox is free to play, with in-game purchases available through a virtual currency called Robux. As of August 2020, Roblox had over 164 million monthly active users, including more than half of all American children under 16. Although Roblox has received generally positive reviews from critics, it has faced criticism for its moderation, microtransactions, and exploitative practices directed toward children.

Global Action Like iTunes: The site is much more empty than it used to be. Just as we wanted to write an article on the iCloud upload limitation, we search for something else (more on that below), and immediately find this one that is in that name, this one above. Fortunately, we also found this, a decent tutorial that we managed to understand:

Concept of Action and Filter: We introduce the concept of Action and Filter. There are three action, Pressing (continuously) Triggers the event(or an action) While if you continuously press a button It will set a filter and you can trigger the event while on the filter condition. "Pressing" is the action itself that triggers the event (or a button click). "Triggers" is the event or button click that is triggered by the action. When you are filtering, it works exactly the same way as with "Pressing". You press a button and it triggers an event if the event you set is active. If the event you set is not active, nothing will happen. If you continuously press the button, the event will keep triggering. Action: It is the event that you set that will trigger the action. In this case, it is a button click, so the action is to click the button. Filter: It is an action that you set that can be used to trigger
